U prošlom broju smo pisali o zanimljivom konceptu frakcionalnog vlasništva jahti koji razvija belgijski poduzetnik Matty Zadnikar. Njegova jahta Mister Z vezana je u splitskoj ACI marini, a na njoj je početkom lipnja odrađeno snimanje za potrebe prezentacije projekta potencijalnim klijentima i na nadolazećem sajmu u Cannesu. Zadnikar je organizirao trodnevno snimanje jahte u ambijentu srednjodalmatinskih otoka koje je bilo jedno od najboljih produkcija koje smo do sada vidjeli. Na-

In the previous number of Yachts we covered the story on an interesting concept of the fractional yacht ownership developed by the Belgian entrepreneur Matty Zadnikar. His yacht Mister Z is located in Split ACI Marina, and at the beginning of June this marine beauty served for the purpose of shooting sessions aiming at presenting project to the potential clients and at boat show in Cannes. Zadnikar organized a three-days professional shooting session of the yacht in the surroundings of the Middle Dalmatian mjera mu je bila da na najbolji način predstavi svoju jahtu, Benetti Delfino 93, a konačni rezultat jest upravo ono o čemu u našem časopisu pišemo – uživanje na moru. Na snimanju su sudjelovali modeli iz Splita i Zagreba, te modne kuće Šušтина i Paul&Shark, a uz belgijske producente stvari je na moru vodio naš Mario Jelavić. Spoj luksuzne jahte, vrhunskih lokacija, lijepe atmosfere i majstorskog Mariovog oka pogledajte i sami na našim stranicama.

islands, definitely one of the best productions we have witnessed so far. His intention was to present his yacht, Benetti Delfino 93, and the final outcome is exactly what we write about in our magazine – pleasure at sea. Models from Split and Zagreb took part in the session, fashion houses Šušтина and Paul&Shark played their role, and side by side with Belgian producers there stood our Mario Jelavić. This magical blend of a luxurious yacht, exquisite locations and Master Mario's eye you can check out at our pages.
